Foundation Software Wins 2010 NEO Success Award

National Construction Software Developer is Five-Time Recipient of Region's Top Award

March 26, 2010, Cleveland – For Immediate Release: Foundation Software, developer of America's number one construction accounting software, FOUNDATION® for Windows®, has been selected as an NEO Success Award winner for the third consecutive year and the fifth time overall. Recognized for record corporate growth, Foundation Software was honored at an awards luncheon on March 25, 2010 at Executive Caterers at Landerhaven in Mayfield Heights, Ohio.

"This award is a great start to the year and signifies our commitment to continuous innovation and improvement," remarked Fred Ode, Foundation Software Chairman and CEO. "We've worked extremely hard as a company to enhance our existing product and add additional products and services that would bring value to our core industry – construction. We remained true to this focus, even during a tougher economic climate. Being recognized for the third year in a row as one of Northeast Ohio's top performing companies is a true honor."

The 2010 NEO Success Award winners were determined by a three-year growth formula that incorporates revenue growth, employee growth and profitability. Award-winning companies are featured in the March 2010 issue of Inside Business, sponsors of the award.

Since 1994, the NEO Success Awards have recognized Northeast Ohio's most successful public, private and emerging companies. The program began because the business community wanted to showcase the breadth and depth of business success in Northeast Ohio, a region that encompasses 16 counties.
